

ANDREW J. READING, CPA

Partner, Assurance Services Group

Andy is a seasoned financial services professional with experience auditing financial systems, programs and processes for clients from a diverse range of industries. He devotes a significant portion of his career to building client relationships that are rooted in an understanding of their operations and goals through all stages of their business life cycle. He routinely mentors and trains staff on assessing risk and designing effective data driven procedures that yield valuable information to clients. As a leader of the Firm's Risk Advisory Services Team, he oversees the design, execution, and implementation of client risk assessment and audit plans. Andy joined the Firm in 2007 after receiving first-hand knowledge of Dopkins values and culture as a participant in the Firm's internship program.

Serving clients from a diverse range of industries, Andy concentrates his practice in the areas of cooperatives, employee benefit plans, healthcare, manufacturing and not-for-profit industry sectors. His principal areas of service include audits, risk assessments, internal controls, fraud prevention, financial reporting and transaction advisory services.

Setting industry framework on a national level, Andy is a member of the Accounting & Auditing Committee for the National Society of Accountants for Cooperatives (NSAC). He continues to serve as a programming advisor for the NSAC Annual Conference, and was directly involved in national conferences held in Salt Lake City, UT (2017) and Austin, TX (2018).

Andy remains committed to the collegiate community through his service as a member of the SUNY Fredonia School of Business Advisory Council. The Council is comprised of a group of regional business executives dedicated to consulting with the School of Business on the matters of curriculum design and program development. He is also a member of the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society's Executive Leadership Committee for the Light the Night Walk in Buffalo, NY.
